Directed Electronics 506T Glass Break Audio Sensor

The Directed Electronics 506T Glass Break Audio Sensor adds an extra layer of protection to compatible vehicle security systems by detecting sounds associated with breaking glass or metal-to-glass impacts. This makes it a valuable upgrade for vehicles that need additional intrusion detection beyond a standard shock sensor.

Designed as a low-current security accessory, the 506T consumes less than 1 mA of current while monitoring for acoustic signatures commonly produced during window break-ins. It can interface with many DEI, Viper, Python, Clifford, Avital and compatible non-DEI vehicle security systems using either a sensor port connection or hard-wired negative instant trigger input.

Installation Note: Professional installation available.

Warranty: Includes a 1-year manufacturer warranty.
